HARRY DALTON - EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT-GENERAL MANAGER

Considered by Brewer President Allan H. "Bud" Selig as the major reason for the club's turnaround the past two seasons, Harry Dalton has indeed made a good impression on the Wisconsin baseball fans since he was named Executive Vice President - General Manager on November 20, 1977.

Under Dalton's regime, the Brewers have a 188-135 record, the fourth best record in the entire major leagues the past two seasons. Baltimore ranks first with a 192-128 record (.600), Boston second with a 190-133 mark (.588), the New York Yankees are third with a 189-134 (.585) mark and the Brewers are next with a .582 percentage. Ironically, all three teams ahead of Milwaukee are in the rugged Eastern Division of the American League. The 1979 World Champion Pittsburgh Pirates have the best mark of any National League team in that span (185-137, .576), but it still falls short of the Brewers record.

Hiring George Bamberger two months to the day after joining the Brewers was probably Dalton's most important contribution, as Bamberger proved to be the finest of the four managers Milwaukee has had in its 10 seasons in the American League. Bambi's personality, communication abilities and pitching knowledge were just the right combination the ballclub was looking for and Dalton proved he had pegged the right man for the job.

Dalton is directly responsible for acquiring 15 of the 39 players currently on the Brewers 1980 Spring Training Roster, including such important additions as Gorman Thomas, the 1979 American League Home Run Champion, Ben Oglivie, Jim Slaton and Buck Martinez. An intelligent student of the game, Dalton traded Slaton to Detroit to acquire Oglivie and he traded a minor league pitcher to St. Louis to acquire Martinez in December of '77. A month later he purchased Thomas from the Texas Rangers and all three players played crucial roles in the Brewers turnabout in '78. Looking to improve the pitching staff for '79, he reacquired Slaton in the Re-entry Draft following the '78 campaign and Slaton responded with 15 victories as Oglivie, Martinez and Thomas had their finest seasons ever as Milwaukee finished second to the American League Champion Orioles.

Dalton is familiar with the trading business, having acquired Frank Robinson, Mike Cuellar, Pat Dobson and Don Buford while with the Orioles and Nolan Ryan and Bobby Bonds while with the California Angels. A man who knows talent, he inked Don Baylor, the 1979 AL MVP, Bobby Grich and Joe Rudi in the 1976 Re-Entry Draft and all three players played an important role in the Angels' first division title last season.

A firm believer in developing a strong total organization, Dalton expanded the scouting staff and added a fifth farm club when he came aboard, while adding key front office personnel like Ray Poitevint, Director of Scouting & Player Development, Walter Shannon, Assistant General Manager, Ray Scarborough, Special Assignments Scout, and Walter Youse, East Coast Scouting Supervisor.

Dalton began his career as an Assistant Farm Director with Baltimore in 1953, moving up to Farm Director in '61 and finally Vice President of Player Personnel from '66-71. In six years at the helm, he saw the Birds win four pennants and two world titles, capturing the American League flag in '66, '69, '70 and '71 and the world championship in '66 and '70. Having won over 100 games his final three seasons with the O's, Baltimore compiled a .603 winning percentage (582-383) under his leadership, finishing first four times and second once.

He joined the Angels as Executive Vice President - General Manager on October 27, 1971 and helped build a solid foundation for Owner Gene Autry's current Western Division Champions as two of his four seasons in Anaheim found Dalton and his staff earning "Organization of the Year" honors.

Dalton, a First Lieutenant in the Air Force, graduated in 1950 from Amherst College. While in the service, he served 37 months, earning a Bronze Star for outstanding work as a combat press officer. While in high school and college he found time to work for the Springfield (MA) Daily News for five years.

He makes his home in River Hills, Wisconsin, with his wife, Patricia, and their daughters, Kim, 17, Cindy, 14, and Debbie, 12.

THROWING THE OLD TRIPLE PLAY

Twice in the 10 year history of the Milwaukee Brewers they have been able to turn a triple play. The first occurred on April 28, 1971 at Boston. With Don Pavletich on first and George Scott on third, Billy Conigliaro grounded to shortstop Rick Auerbach, who threw to second baseman Ted Kubiak forcing Pavletich. Kubiak threw to first baseman Mike Hegan to get Conigliaro and Hegan then threw to catcher Ellie Rodriguez, who tagged Scott out at the plate. Pitching for Milwaukee was Bill Parsons. The other triple play came on May 15, 1979 at California. With Carney Lansford at first and Joe Rudi at second, Bobby Grich hit a grounder to Sal Bando at third, who stepped on third to force Rudi. Bando then threw to second baseman Paul Molitor, who forced Lansford and Molitor threw to first baseman Cecil Cooper to nail Grich. On the mound for the Brewers was Jim Slaton.

SCOREBOARD DATA

The most recent facelifting at County Stadium, through the efforts of the Milwaukee Brewers, is the world's most advanced electronic scoreboard system, installed and operating in April, 1980. Manufactured by Omega Electronic, the scoreboard system includes a giant matrix screen 29 feet by 63 feet located on an 82' x 92' frame in right center field that will provide live action, replays, slow motion, animations, out-of-town scores and game-in-progress information. The entire system includes more than 32,000, 40-watt light bulbs. The main scoreboard develops 16 shades of gray to provide spectators with the finest black and white picture of its type available anywhere. The matrix system is totally compatible to network television and can accommodate live transmissions and all tape sizes currently being used in television.

PITCHERS AREN'T SUPPOSED TO BAT!

Ever since the American League adopted the designated hitter rule in 1973, only a handful of pitchers in the league were called upon to swing the bat. With the Brewers, two individuals have taken their cuts in a live game since the rule went into effect seven years ago. Righthander Tom Murphy went one-for-two against Kansas City on June 12, 1974 and lefty Billy Travers batted against New York on July 29, 1979, after infielder Jim Gantner was ejected in the seventh inning. Travers laid down a perfect sacrifice bunt in the eighth inning.

ALL-STAR GAME RECORD

1976 at Philadelphia — Did not Play

The Milwaukee Brewers logo is beginning it's third year of existence, following its selection from over 2,000 entries in a month long contest that was open to the public, both amateur and professional, in October and November of '77. Tom Meindel, an Art History student at the University of Wisconsin - Eau Claire, designed the logo and earned the $2,000 first prize. The logo combines the lower case letters "m" and "b", the club's initials, to form a baseball mitt.

PLAYING BY THE BOOK

Determining:

BATTING AVERAGE — Divide the number of at bats into the number of hits.

BATTING & PITCHING (ERA) CHAMPION — To qualify, a player must have 502 or more plate appearances; 162 or more total innings pitched.

EARNED RUN AVERAGE — Multiply the number of earned runs by nine; take the number and divide it by the number of innings pitched.

FIELDING PERCENTAGE — Divide the total putouts and assists by the total of putouts, assists and errors.

MAGIC NUMBER — Determine the number of games yet to be played, add one, then subtract the number of games ahead in the loss column of the standings from the closest opponent.

GAME WINNING RBI — The run batted in that gives a club the lead it never relinquishes.

SLUGGING AVERAGE — Divide the total bases of all hits by the total times at bat (at bats do not include walks, sacrifices, hit by pitcher, or times awarded first base because of interference or obstruction).

Defining:

DESIGNATED HITTER RULE — A hitter may be designated to bat for the pitcher in any spot in the batting order in any game without affecting the status of the pitcher. The designated hitter must be selected and be included on the lineup cards presented to the umpire-in-chief prior to the game. The DH is "locked" into the batting order but may be removed for a pinch-hitter or pinch-runner, who in turn becomes the DH. The DH, while still in the game, may be used defensively but the pitcher then assumes the batting order of the replaced defensive player, thus terminating the DH role.

DISABLED LIST — Pitchers must be on for a minimum of 21 days. All other players may be placed on a 15 day list.

INTER-LEAGUE TRADES — Midnight, five days after the World Series through Midnight, night preceding the last scheduled day of the Winter Meetings—no waivers are necessary. Plus February 15 to March 15, 1980.

PLAYER LIMITS — 40 until opening day, when the number must be reduced to 25 until September 1, when it again becomes 40.

ROOKIE — A player shall be considered a rookie unless during previous season or seasons he has a) exceeded 130 at bats or 50 innings pitched in the major leagues; or b) accumulated more than 45 days on the active roster of a major league club or clubs during the period of the 25 player limit.

SAVES — A relief pitcher shall be credited with a save when he meets all three of the following conditions: 1.) he is the finishing pitcher in a game won by his club; 2.) he is not the winning pitcher; and 3.) he qualifies under one of the following conditions: a) he enters the game with a lead of no more than three runs and pitches at least one inning, or b) he enters the game with the potential tying run on base, at bat or on deck (i.e. the potential tying run is either already on base or is one of the first two batsmen he faces), or c) he pitched effectively for at least three innings.

TRADE REGULATIONS — Players are available on waivers in reverse order of standings, at the time waivers expire, if more than 30 days after the start of the season; otherwise in reverse order of standings at the close of the preceeding season.

TRADES WITH LEAGUE — Midnight the last day of the season through Midnight, June 15—no waivers are necessary. Midnight, June 15 through Midnight, the last day of the season—league waivers are necessary.

WAIVER & MAJOR LEAGUE DRAFT PRICES — The waiver price is $20,000; the major league draft price is $25,000.

BREWER RADIO & TELEVISION DATA

ANNOUNCERS

BOB UECKER: A native of Milwaukee and an ex-major league catcher, 'Ueck' is the veteran of the Brewer announcing team. Beginning his ninth season behind the microphone, Bob has gained national recognition for his work on ABC's Monday Night Baseball, The Superstars Show and his guest appearances on the 'Tonight Show'. He is known as 'Mr. Baseball', more for his skills as an announcer, than for his career with the Braves, Cardinals and Phillies.

LORN BROWN: A member of the Chicago White Sox announcing team for the past four seasons, Lorn brings with him over 20 years of experience in the sportscasting field. Besides handling baseball on the major league level with the White Sox and Cardinals, he also has announced minor league baseball, Chicago Bulls basketball, Chicago Cougar hockey and college basketball and football.

MIKE HEGAN: Beginning his third full season with the Brewer Television Network, Mike was one of the most popular players to ever wear a Brewer uniform. A 10 year veteran, who played with the Brewers, Pilots, New York Yankees and the World Champion A's, Mike is a full-time sportscaster with WTMJ radio & television.

THE 1980 BREWER RADIO NETWORK

For the 11th consecutive season WTMJ (620) radio is the flagship station for Brewer baseball, one of 45 stations carrying the games in 1980. The Brewer Radio Network in 1980 consists of 38 stations in Wisconsin, six radio stations in Michigan and one in Illinois.
